Borough Tops League; Berwyn Crushed, 12-2

Narberth in First Place Since Coatesville Must Replay Forfeit Game

GLADWYNE HERE SUN.

By JOHN MULLIGAN

Baseball fans were reminiscing about "the old days" last Sunday as they watched Narberth take Berwyn apart by 12-2 figures in a Main Line League game here. They saw in the play of Gene Davis' gang a return to the time when borough bats smoked their way to crushing victories over loop rivals.

Revealing some of the greatest power seen by the homesters this season, Narberth buried Dan Redmond's team with ease before an enthusiastic crowd. Victory meant that the Davis-men retained a slim half-game lead over Coatesville since the latter also was making mincemeat of Malvern to stay in the running.

Davis' boys were given the meager edge over Perk Richards' aggregation at a meeting of the league last week when the officers ruled that all forfeited games for the second-half must be played. Coatesville had one forfeit win at the expense of Brookline's first-half champions. It must be played on September 5 along with two other forfeits.

Jackson on Hill

Johnny Jackson, who had a brief, sensational career on the mound for the Phillies, got credit for last Sunday's triumph. Working in his fourth game, he kept his record untarnished in a contest where he was not pushed at any time. Narberth simply went to work on three Berwyn pitchers and when the dust had cleared off the spacious playground the Davis-men had collected a grand total of 16 base hits. Bill Reynolds replaced Jackson in the sixth when the game was considered clinched.

What many believed would develop into an interesting pitchers' duel between Jackson and Joe Dougherty, of Berwyn, was disappointing. Heavy borough bludgeons bashed his stuff to all corners of the lot in a great second-inning uprising. Six runs were collected and Dougherty was yanked with two away. Charley Spellman, leading pitcher of 1935, was sent in in a vain attempt to stem the tide. Then followed Bob Haig, who likewise, was no puzzle to the rampaging boroughites.

Tanny Ralston, who crashed one for the circuit with two aboard, was the big gun of the second-inning attack and Johnny Brennan poled a four-bagger an inning later with Tanny on base. Narberth scored two in the third, one in the fifth and three in the eighth. Berwyn was able to push single markers over in the fifth and final turn at the plate.

The fans are certain to witness a break-neck race between the towners and Coatesville from now until the final games on Labor Day. One slip by either may be enough to put it out of the race.

Play Malvern

Davis' charges will hook up with Malvern here tomorrow afternoon and on Sunday will be called on to meet Gladwyne's last-place team. However, Gladwyne's standing can't be taken too lightly because Manager George Nellings' has the club rejuvenated and fighting. Also it will be recalled that Gladwyne holds two decisions over Narberth this season.

The Davis-men had an open date on Saturday, but did not enjoy it. Narberth was nosed out by Media Squires, whom they defeated last week, by 4-3 figures on the community field.

Frank Malseed, late of Brookline, earned the decision over the Main Line Leaguers. He was wild in spots, but kept the eight Narberth hits pretty well scattered. Malseed walked seven and struck out nine. Al Herrmann opposed him, but gave way to Reynolds in the ninth.

Johnny Brennan contributed a threebagger to the losers' cause.

Villanova Football Coach Leases Merion Residence

Maurice J. ("Clipper") Smith, head football coach at Villanova College, has leased the residence of Mrs. George Piersol, 334 Calvert road, Merion, through Durbin & Howard. The Smiths moved into their new home this week.

whose resignation as a member of the State Council of Education has been demanded by the Governor. Dr. King is president of the Narberth School Board.

Around Our Town

In looking over some of Narberth's past history, we have found that our fair town has another claim to fame besides being the only suburb on the Main Line whose railroad station is on an angle of some forty-two degrees. (Have you ever tried to get off the Paoli Local with a lot of packages in your arms?) It seems that at the time of the Centennial celebration in 1876, just a bit south of where the railroad station now stands, there stood the old Grange Hotel, the largest hotel in the east at that time. Somewhere between then and now, the unfortunate edifice burned down to the ground. But this, we hasten to add, was before the existence of the Narberth Fire Company, or it never would have happened.

The regular summer hot spells are not the only signs of tropicalism around Narberth it seems. Right in the office of Messrs. Durbin and Howard grows as fine a display of tropical flora as you could ask for. The Pandana plant, a miniature palm tree sort of thing, is one of which they are especially proud. Doc also claims that there is an orange tree, or was it lemon? outside the window. We've never seen any fruit on it... but you know what this temperate climate is. At any rate, we dare say, if you ask, you can hear an interesting history about each one.

We nearly lost our way completely the other day after the Narberth-Coatesville game. The gentleman from whom we asked directions was so enthused over the victory all our pleas for at least a helpful hint as to which road to take were all in vain. "Where...?" we started out. "At Coatesville," came the answer before we could finish. "Do you know the number of the house, we said to our companion." "The score at the end of the fifth..." the gentleman on the corner started again. Oh, well, we decided it was no use and drove on. P. S. We're very glad they won.

Rangers Strive For Camp Points As Season Nears End; Banquet 1st

(Editor's note: This is the seventh of a series of letters from the boys at Ranger Lodge, Casco, Maine.)

The usual intercamp competition and camping trips were interspersed last week with a craze for getting points. So the inmates of Ranger Lodge scurried hither and thither pestering the councilors in order to obtain some coveted counters.

However, during this infatuation, other things were accomplished outstanding among which was the senior ball team's victory over Camp Koda. Behind the four-hit pitching of Len Jones, Bob Collins and George Paine batted in twelve runs and they were sufficient to coast to a 12-7 win. Dick Blue was also outstanding with the willow and Dan Karcher scintillated afield. But the swimming team was not so fortunate and went down to defeat 42-36. Trailing by one point with only the relay left, the Rangers had a chance to pull the meet out of the fire, but the opposition was too Dan Karcher and George Paine turned in first places for the losers, but Koda snared too many seconds and thirds to overcome. The Ranger basketball teams continued their unbeaten streak as Zakelo was beaten in a double header. Playing for the first time, the Peanuts outscored the opposition, 18-10, behind the scoring ability of Harry Middleton, Rusty DeBuro and Charlie Dykes. Ross Collins, Don Ehaesa, Bud Nold and Jimmy Dykes paced the junior team to a 25-6 victory. Something new was tried in the way of mountain climbing and a party was sent up Mt. Washington at 2 A. M. Led by Bob Wood and Tom Griffith, the party ascended the carriage road and reached the summit at 4:55, just in time to see the sunrise. Clear weather was encountered on the trip and the boys were able to see the lights of Portland, Dave Sellers again was first to the peak and Boyd Brodhead, Bill Brendlinger and Leon Herbert gave him a good chase.

Camp Hawthorne held its annual invitation swimming meet and among the six teams, Ranger Lodge placed third. Ralph Moss, Chic Dawson, Jack Townsend, Dave Alburger, Bill Grugan, Bob Warwick and Bobby Roberts won points for Ranger Lodge, but the home team and Camp Hines presented too strong an array to overcome.

Coached by Jim Quinn cabins 14 and 15 presented an old-fashioned melodrama on stunt night. Bob Rowley as the local country boy out to take the big city and Roger Fox as the villain won the plaudits of the audience, while Burt Davis turned out to be a startlingly fine ingenue.

Gordon Wilson and Ted Collins were others who aided in portraying this drama of the farmlands. The census of opinion was that it was the best show of the year.

Cabin 10, habitually last in inspection, reversed the standards and turned in a perfect record for the week, thereby winning the weekly contest. Goaded on by Doctor Carl, Low Reiser, Johnny Sellers, Bob Hagar, Cliff Roberts and Johnny Bartle proved that they could wield brooms with the best of them.

In the camp track meets for the medals to be awarded at the end of the current season, Bobby Paine took honors in the Peanuts division, Bobby Hagar the junior and Cliff Roberts the senior. Cliff won all five events in annexing the senior crown and Hagar and Paine each tabbed two firsts and a second. George Paine in the senior, Dave Sellers in the junior and Howard McConnell among the youngsters furnished competition for the victors.

There are 150 points needed for a bronze medal, 175 for a silver emblem and 200 for a gold trophy. Only 225 points are available and at present it seems that Harley Anders will be the sole recipient of a gold medal.

Bub Nold, Bill Jones, Rabbit Narrigan, Walt and Dan Karcher, Rolly Young, Bobby Reed and Hank Ludlow seem well on their way toward silver charms and many are in line for the bronze.

The camp is in a state of expectancy for the farewell banquet Tuesday. Jim Cairns has promised a super special feed and the entertainment will be paramount.

50th District Governor Addresses Rotary Club

George Earle Brown of the 50th District, Rotary International, spoke at the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club meeting Tuesday at the Overbrook Golf Club. He emphasized the selection of new members and the promotion of good fellowship in the organization.

Held as Drunk Driver
Charged with drunken driving, Frank S. Makers, 48, of Woodbine avenue, Narberth, was arrested Tuesday night in Bryn Mawr a half hour after his automobile had sidwiped two others on Montgomery avenue, Gulphville, Upper Merion Township.

According to police, Makers' car first sidwiped a truck operated by Charles Cohen, of 13th and Lindley streets, and caromed into an auto operated by Nick Lattanze, of Norris-town.

None of the drivers was injured in the double collision.

Makers was held for court in $500 bail.

Too Early—Too Late

Three Charles from Narberth—Hansell, Jenkins and Chain, Jr.—arrived in Ocean City ahead of fellow-Lower Merion Rod and Gun clubmen. So much ahead, in fact, that they were able to take a night's lodging and sleep until dawn. They slept until after dawn. So they missed the boat.

Narberth Man Jailed, Robbed Arcadia Thrice

Warren Anderson, 41, Confesses to Stealing From Restaurant Three Times

BANDITS ABANDON CAR

Three times and in, is the story of Warren Anderson.

According to his confession to Lower Merion police, Anderson had a fondness for both the refreshments and cash to be found at the Arcadia Restaurant in Narberth.

He told Detective Sergeant Clarence Robb, he first robbed the place in December, 1934, of $34. In the fall of 1935 he took $3.50 and a bottle of rum. Last Wednesday night he obtained $13.25, a bottle of gin and cigarettes. He left $11 in the cash register, and a trail of blood on the floor caused when he cut his arm while breaking an upstairs window in the place.

Under suspicion by the proprietor, Marios Chios, for "hanging around" the restaurant, Anderson was arrested early Friday morning by Patrolmen Kearns and Dickie in Ardmore, who noticed his wounded arm.

Anderson, who is 41 and separated from his family, was held without bail for court by Magistrate C. Howard Meredith.

Last Thursday Lower Merion police found the automobile used July 31 by five bandits in their holdup of the Norristown Railway Express Agency when a small safe was taken. The machine, abandoned at Tregaron road and Bala avenue, Bala, was minus its plates. The plates on the car July 31 were those stolen sometime before from the machine of Irving J. Creed, of Stoneway lane, Bala-Cynwyd.

A "ghost burglar" last Thursday lifted a handbag containing $15 in cash, a diamond studded gold and platinum Corinthian Yacht Club emblem.

At Odds on Training

Narberth and Bala-Cynwyd are keenly interested in how the Penn football team fares this fall since the borough's councilman, Harvey Harman, has added training of the players to his duties as head coach of the gridiron squad. Replaced as trainer is Lawson Robertson, of Bala-Cynwyd, the university's truck coach and famous conditioner of Olympic stars. Robbie believes in the light touch, while Harvey favors plenty of hard scrimmage.

Around Our Town

After reading about the sunflowers across from the station we were convinced they were a good omen about the coming election. And so, boys and girls, one dark, dark night we snook down to the square to find out just what the happy portent was. Being of a romantic turn of mind, we started off with a bit of "she loves me, she loves me not"; but then, remembering the task at hand, we hastily changed it to "Roosevelt, Landon, Roosevelt, Landon, etc." Much to our chagrin (being staunch Republicans at heart), it turned out "Roosevelt." Undaunted by this, however, we took a hasty look around to see if anyone had overheard, and then very quietly extracted one petal from each flower, so that if anyone else should try the experiment, they would find Landon victorious. It nearly broke our hearts to learn later that someone had reversed the process, saying "Landon, Roosevelt, etc." and was crowing about a victory for the president. And so, now, if anyone asks us, we think all superstitions are silly anyway.

We never realized before how much the pleasure of drinking a soda depended on the vision. Those bee-ootiful new blue straws they have at Shea's really make the most everyday things that we've been sipping for years seem like something new and different. They're wonderful for a blue mood . . . just sitting there sipping a lemon concoction through the deep indigo straws, especially on a rainy day, makes you feel that tender, bittersweet sadness that is so becoming under one of those wide-brimmed hats. Its better than crying at the movies.

Hartz Drives Twelve-Millionth Chevrolet Here

The 12,000,000th Chevrolet reached Cynwyd last Friday morning. It was driven to the Kirsch Chevrolet agency on Bala avenue by Harry Hartz, the famous driver, en route to the Texas Centennial at Dallas. It climaxed the most sustained period of high-volume production in Chevrolet history—the millionth car produced since last December. According to Mr. Kirsch:

"The completion of one million cars in so short a period is a concrete proof of three remarkable achievements, by three different departments of Chevrolet: the engineering department, the manufacturing department and the sales department. The engineers designed a product which the public would demand in large volume. The dealers and salesmen under the direction of W. E. Holler, vice-president and general sales manager, have done an outstanding job of meeting the demand. And the several manufacturing plants and 10 big assembly plants have written a new chapter in production history, averaging 125,000 units a month over an eight-month period, and even then meeting the demand only with difficulty."

It is believed he gained entrance by climbing a waterspout and forcing a screen on the second floor. Mrs. Strawbridge heard the man, phoned the police, but neither she nor the officers know how he escaped.

A "ghost burglar" suspect was arrested in Reading Monday, alleged to have had some of the Strawbridge jewelry in his possession. The suspect is Michael J. Koharchek, a Reading tailor.

THE THINGS WE READ ABOUT

One of them is the Living Room Fireplace. It's a place to "Gather 'Round" when the snow flakes are flying and the wind whistling. Sometimes we throw a mantel around it for one of our customers, and we've often found it good practice to install Bookshelves on both sides of the fireplace as well.

There is much to do in the short time between now and when we "crawl in" for the Winter. An early start is advisable and you will get things just as you want them.

ROADS

The first roads to cut through primitive American forests were made by the Indians. Their trails once threaded the Philadelphia area in a winding and interlacing network.

One of the earliest and most used trails ran from Conestoga, near Lancaster, up Conestoga Creek, across to French Creek and down that stream to the Schuylkill.

White settlers made use of the Indian trails. Indeed, the more peaceable Indian deemed it an act of friendship to keep the road open to the white man.

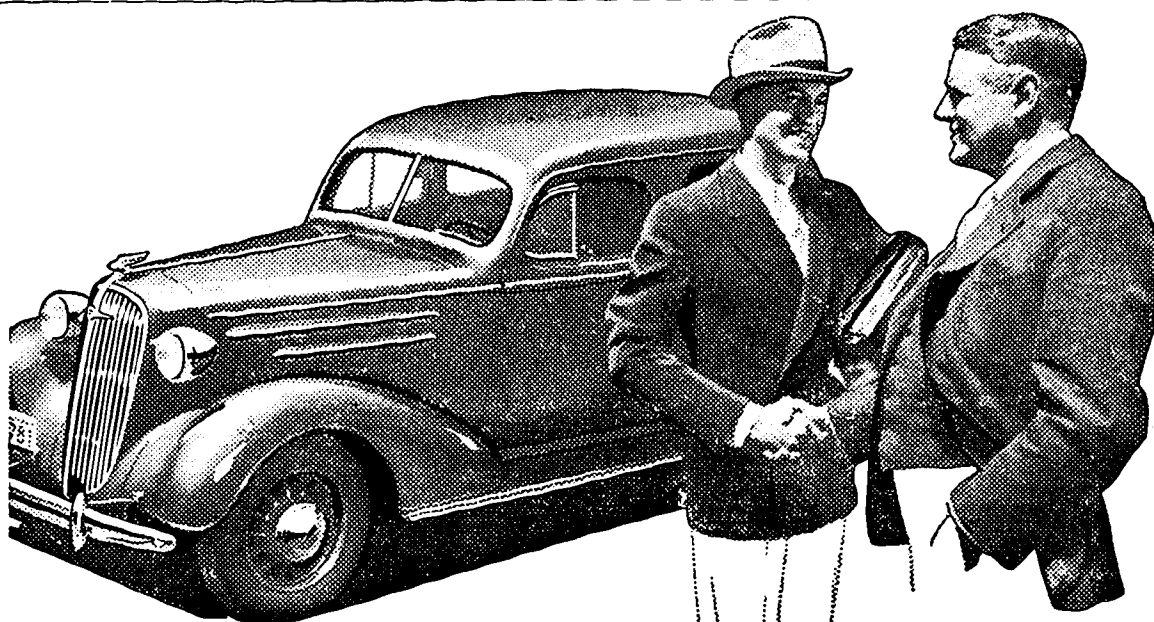

With the growth of population more roads were needed. In 1678 the court ordered: "Every person should, within the space of two months, as far as his land reaches, make good and passable ways, from neighbor to neighbor, with bridges when it needs, To the End that neighbors on occasion may come together."

Our earliest roads always ran from one stream to another. Where possible, they kept to the high ground along a ridge, avoiding floods and soft ground in the spring and snow drifts in the winter.

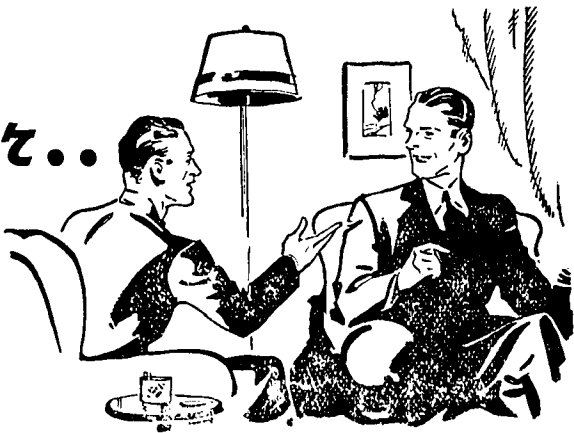

The streams that meant so much in the lives of the Indians are even more important today... because they furnish an abundant supply of pure drinking water to millions of people.
